

Getting around in Stockholm

To travel with the public transport system in Stockholm (metro, buses, trams etc.), you need to buy a ticket. Tickets can be bought in self-service ticket machines available at most subway stations, at “SL-center” and at tickets agents such as Pressbyrån and Seven-Eleven. You can either buy single tickets at a rate of 36 SEK or an SL Access card at a rate of 20 SEK which you then load your tickets onto using the self-service machines. There are also travel cards valid for 24 h (115 SEK) or 72 hours (230 SEK). Failure to present a valid ticket on demand will cost you SEK 1,200 so please take no risks.

It is not possible to buy tickets/pay in cash on the bus. Make sure you have purchased a valid ticket before going to the dinner! There are no subway stops close to the dinner venue. If you don't have time to buy a ticket before the start of the workshop, you can visit the subway station Universitetet in one of the breaks where there is a Pressbyrån, self-service machines and a ticket office.
